DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-5, 9-10, 14-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cleary et al (U.S. Pat. 6,457,823) in view of Koike et al (U.S. Pat. 5,767,876)

Cleary et al discloses:

- regarding claim 1, applying a first ink drop to a substrate and subsequently applying a second ink drop on to the first ink drop without intermediate solidification of the first ink drop (Figure 4A, 4B; Column 4, Lines 24 – 51)
- regarding claims 2 – 5, 10, 15, further ink drops are applied sequentially to the combined first and second ink drops without intermediate solidification of the first and subsequent ink drops; at least four ink drops are applied sequentially and wherein the first and subsequent ink drops are different colors; the ink drops are cyan, magenta, yellow, and black (Column 4, Lines 12 – 51)
- regarding claim 14, an ink dispenser (18) holding a set of ink jet inks (Figure 1)

Cleary et al does not disclose expressly the following:

- regarding claims 1 and 9, the first and second ink drops have a different viscosity, surface tension or curing speed

Koike discloses:

- regarding claims 1 and 9, the first and second ink drops have a different viscosity, surface tension or curing speed (Column 3, Lines 14-25), for the purpose of obtaining an image in which bleeding is small in degree and which is sharp and clear.

At the time the invention was made it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to incorporate the teaching of Koike et al into the device of Cleary et al, for the purpose of obtaining an image in which bleeding is small in degree and which is sharp and clear.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-15 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. Please see the above rejection regarding Koike et al (U.S. Pat. 5,767,876)

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 6-8 and 11-13 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

The primary indication of allowable subject matter of claims 6 and 11 is the inclusion of wherein the viscosity of the first to the last ink drops applied varies in a graduated manner within a range of from 10 up to 30 mPas or a range of from 30 down to 10 mPas. It is this limitation found in each of the claims, as it is claimed in the combination, that has not been found, taught or suggested by the prior art of record which makes these claims allowable over the prior art.

The primary indication of allowable subject matter of claims 7 and 12 is the inclusion of wherein the surface tension of the first to the last ink drops applied varies in a graduated manner within a range of from 20 up to 40 dynes/cm or a range of from 40 down to 20 dynes/cm. It is this limitation found in each of the claims, as it is claimed in the combination, that has not been found, taught or suggested by the prior art of record which makes these claims allowable over the prior art.

The primary indication of allowable subject matter of claims 8 and 13 is the inclusion of the limitation of the cure speed of the first and last ink drops applied varies in a graduated manner within a range of from 20 up to 70 m/min or 70 down to 20 m/min. It is this limitation found in each of the claims, as it is claimed in the combination, that has not been found, taught or suggested by the prior art of record which makes these claims allowable over the prior art.
